Trusses? We're the experts at Griggs

ROOF trusses are used in around 95 per cent of all new buildings in the UK. Griggs has manufactured roof trusses since 1983 and the company is an acknowledged specialist in its design and supply, regardless of size and complexity.

Griggs is a Gang-Nail Systems Limited truss fabricator. Our experienced multi-tasked design team uses state of the art GNM@TRIX computer-aided engineering software to turn an architectural vision into a specifically designed, timber engineered roof solution.

The fully itemised quotation customers receive from us details exactly what will arrive on site, on time and on budget.

Griggs has extensive experience in the design and manufacture of attic and raised tie trusses for room-in-the-roof extensions.

We can manufacture all profiles of trusses, from small porch mono trusses right through to 15 metre industrial and commercial trusses, all delivered by our own fleet of vehicles.

Our team of multi-tasking designers is always on hand to discuss any project and advise where necessary.

■ HASSLE-FREE: the 'I' Joist floor system is strong, stable and lightweight – and prevents squeaking

Stop your floor squeaking

GRIGGS is the sole dealer and supplier of Finnframe Floor Systems in this area. Specifying, purchasing and installing the 'I' joist floor system is a hassle-free experience.

The system is strong, stable and lightweight and we deliver to your site a complete structural package with all dimensionally specific items cut to length and coded.

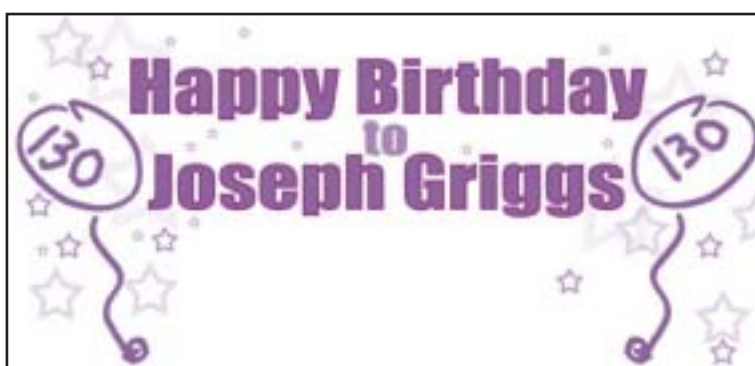

We provide a high level of design, manufacture and on-site service. Our designers can advise you on the best design for your project and attend your site to train your carpenters on the correct method of installation.

The Finnframe Floor System complies with Eurocode 5 and is produced at reduced moisture content delivering less dimensional change over time, virtually eradicating floor movement and its associated problems, such as squeaks.

This results in floors which outperform traditional solid wood floor construction.
